

Indigenous Relationship and Cultural Awareness (IRCA) Courses: Interactivity Guide

Module 13: Pediatric Oncology

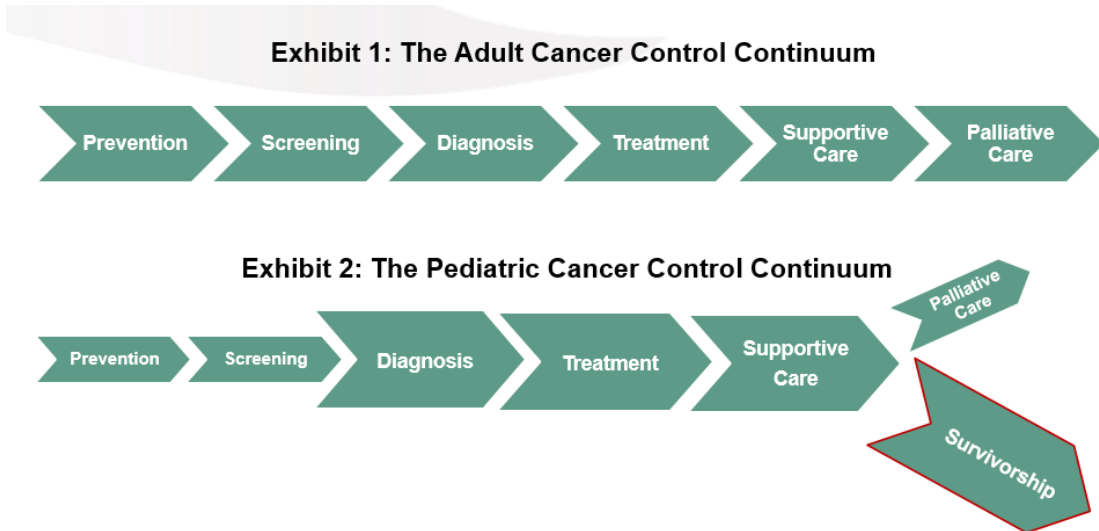

Chapter 1 - The Pediatric Oncology Group of Ontario (POGO)

1. POGO is an incorporated, not-for-profit entity with charitable status, which developed from an unprecedented alliance of visionary leaders, experts, healthcare professionals, the Ontario government, parents and childhood cancer survivors. What is their unifying goal and how does this relate to caring for First Nation, Inuit, Métis and urban Indigenous patients?

Answer:

Chapter 2 - The Difference between Childhood and Adult Cancer

1. What are some of the main differences between childhood and adult cancer when looking at the cancer continuum below?

Answer:

Pediatric Oncology Group of Ontario. (2015). Childhood Cancer in Ontario: A Remarkable Journey (1983 – 2015). PowerPoint Presentation.

2. Why is childhood cancer unique?

Answer:

Chapter 3 - Childhood Cancer – A Unique Landscape

1. Reflection: After reviewing the chapter, are there any aspects of childhood cancer that you were not aware of? If so, please explain.

Answer:

Chapter 4 - Stages of the Journey

1. After reflecting on the case studies in this chapter, what are some of the difficulties encountered by the First Nations family that are unique to First Nation patients?

Answer:

2. Reflection: After reflecting on the case studies in this chapter, what are some of the activities carried out the by the POGO Interlink Nurse that are unique to First Nation, Inuit, Métis and urban Indigenous children.

Answer:

Chapter 5 - Childhood cancer in First Nations, Inuit, Métis and Urban Indigenous peoples

1. Reflecting on this chapter, what are some of the differences between the cancer journey for First Nation, Inuit, Métis and urban Indigenous children and non-First Nation, Inuit, Métis and urban Indigenous children?

Answer: